PLUGGED IN

Every Washington insider has four things: savvy, insight, gall—and The Hotline.

Some use The Hotline as their political early warning system. Others use it to monitor the daily political pulse of Washington and the rest of the country.

But they all read it: The White House, the Hill, the news media, the consultants, the K Street crowd—all certain that The Hotline will keep them plugged in.

"The Hotline is as important to my day as coffee and the morning newspapers—and just as addictive."

Jim Lehrer
The News Hour, PBS

National Journal's Hotline reports each day's hottest political news—drawn from hundreds of newspapers, trade publications, and TV and radio news programs. The Hotline gives you the complete and informed picture of what's happening today, what's about to happen tomorrow and how it's playing—both inside and outside the Beltway.

By reading The Hotline each day, you'll get inside the campaign war rooms, the polling reports and even the scandals. You'll know who's running, who's not, who's in, who's out—and why.

The crisp, irreverent style makes it a quick and lively read. But make no mistake: The Hotline is serious business for those who take their politics seriously.

"The Variety, People Magazine and Wall Street Journal of politics. If you aren't reading it, your competition is."

FRONTLINE
A Red-Mond Flag?
Bill Redmond's (R) upset victory of Dem Eric Serna in NM 03 is leading some to compare the GOP's win with Ron Lewis's K Street special win in '94. But there may be less nail significance.
Politics Is Local. From the get-go, NM Dems were not sure about the Senate race gripping about the candidates even before he was chosen the nominee by the party. Some of those disgruntled Dems went to support Green nominee Carol Miller. NM Dems have seen this before. In '94, Gov. Johnson (R) won election over Dem Bruce King due to a strong Green showing.
Not Credit. Because some GOPers took a while to jump on Redmond's ship, it is worth noting that he did have solid help from organized conservatives and AZ neighbor Dan Quayle. (D)
